All's Well That Ends Well

'The web of our life is a mingled yarn, good and ill together'

The orphaned Helena is in love with Bertram, but he is committed to following his own path. In return for curing the ailing ruler of France, Helena is promised the hand of any man she wishes, prompting Bertram to enlist in the army. Undeterred, Helena crosses half of Europe in the passionate pursuit of her happiness...

Part fairy-tale, part adventure, All's Well That Ends Well is one of Shakespeare's most intensely romantic and bittersweet plays; a powerful portrait of what it is to be unafraid to follow your dreams.

Adapted for six actors and directed by long-term GSC collaborator Tom Littler (Love's Labour's Lost, Much Ado About Nothing); a magical and intimate production, drenched in the music of memory awaits.

Join us in a brand-new venue, St Nicolas' Church, for a truly special staging of this rarely seen Shakespeare gem.

Praise for All's Well That Ends Well

'A fairy-tale for grown-ups'
